It was decided that the Transport Committee would review the Ontario Transport Standard as a group and break into smaller working groups after review is performed.

The Transport Committee started its review of Ontario's Transportation Standard. It began by reviewing the definitions found in the Ontario Transportation Standard and identified definitions that would need to be amended, removed, or added. The Transport Committee reviewed sections 36 to 44 of the Ontario Transportation Standard. Special attention was paid to accessibility training, the transition process for the implementation of a transportation standard, accessibility plans, and the impact of snow on traffic stops.
